

Natural Stone Disclaimer

- Natural Stone is a product of nature and can vary in terms of color, pattern, texture, shade, finish, tint, hardness, strength resistance, density and thickness. In accordance with industry guidelines, the thickness can vary between 1/16 inch and 1/8 inch. Natural Stone products delivered to your home may not be an exact match to what you might have seen in a showroom, brochure, flyer or online.
- Because natural stone is a product of nature and not manmade no two pieces are exactly the same. These differences and variations in stone are considered part of the beauty of natural stone. Overtime natural stone can/may show natural wear.
